Altun Ha - Mayan Temple

Your adventure starts departing Cayo Espanto at 7:15 AM for an 8:00 AM flight to Belize City where your guide awaits your arrival with a sign that has your name.

Leaving the city, your journey pasts several quaint villages along the “Old Northern Highway” towards your Mayan Ruins adventure. Mayan site location is about 30 miles north of Belize City taking approximately 45 minutes to an hour drive.

Altun Ha means stone water in Maya. It is considered to be a ceremonial and a trading center. When Dr. David P. G. excavated the site of Altun Ha, they found jade, including the largest piece ever found in the whole Mundo Maya which is Kinich Ahau referred to as the Sun God.

Three plazas and 13 structures mark the epicenter of this very important ceremonial site of the ancient Mayan civilization. Located only seven miles from the sea and surrounded by a primary broadleaf rainforest. This site captured world attention when Professor Pendergast of the Royal Ontario Museum discovered the 9½ pound jade head of the Sun God Kinich Ahau in the tomb of a Royal Priest, located within the main temple of the masonry altars. He prepared stone steps allowing visitors to climb on top one of the main temples on the site to capture the beautiful views of the surrounding countryside.

Once your tour is completed your guide drives you back to the city to take the 12:30 PM 20-minute flight back to San Pedro and then a 7-minute boat ride to Cayo Espanto.

The Belize Zoo is the perfect way to experience Belize's untamed jungles and savannahs. The Tropical Education Center was started in 1983 to provide a home for wild animals featured in rainforest documentaries. From the beginning, it was apparent that Belizeans were not familiar with the different species of wildlife that shared their country and great efforts were made to transform the little zoo into a dynamic wildlife education center. Today, the Belize Zoo covers approximately 29 acres of tropical savannah and features over 125 animals native to Belize. Many of these animals were injured when rescued and have been nursed back to health. Enjoy the awesome range of mammals, birds and reptiles in their natural habitat, including jaguars, howler monkeys, toucans, egrets, crocodiles, and tree frogs.
